Madrid, July 21. By a Courier from Barcelona we have had an Account of the Arrival there of a Packet-boat from Genoa, with Letters of the 2d Inſtant; being the firſt Veſſel that is come ſince the ſettling of a Correſpondence with Italy by that Paſſage; that Republick having allowed an Officer of the Poſts appointed by his Catholick Majeſty to reſide in their City for the Management of the Conveyance of Letters by thoſe Packet-Boats. By the ſame Courier we had Advice of the Arrival at Barcelona of the three Men of War commanded by Sig. Serrano, which carried the Cardinals Borgia and Belluga to Civita-Vecchia, and relieved the Garriſon of Porto-Longone. The Marqueſs de Lede, who went lately to the Eſcurial, has been declared Captain-General of the Coaſts of Andaluſia, Don Juan Manrique reſigning that Employment. The Marqueſs de los Balbaſes, who has for ſome time laboured under great Indiſpoſition, is well recovered. The King has conferred the Honour of Grandee of Spain, of the firſt Rank, on the Duke of San Miguel, a Sicilian, in Conſideration of his good Services while the Spaniſh Troops were on the Iſland of Sicily in 1718.

Turin, July 23. On the 21ſt at Night Madame Royale, Mother of the King of Sardinia, was taken ſo ill, that a Courier was ſent to give Notice of it to his Majeſty and the Queen who were at Rivoli. The King, though he received this Advice after Midnight, immediately haſtened to Town; but finding her Royal Highneſs ſomewhat better, returned in the Evening to Rivoli. His Majeſty came hither again early this Morning, and intends to remain here, Madame Royale's great Age and the Continuance of her Indiſpoſition, though it is not violent, giving Ground for Apprehenſion. She is ſo great a Benefactreſs to many Perſons of Quality, ſuch an Encourager of Manufacturies, and ſo extremely charitable to the Poor, that her Death would prove an univerſal Loſs.

Stockholm, July 10, O. S. Sir John Norris arrived here on the 31ſt of laſt Month; having left the Fleets in their former Station at Cappel-Share. The ſame Day arrived a Courier diſpatched from Neuſtadt by Count Lilienſtedt, which Courier was ſent back Yeſterday. The King of Sweden has had no Return of his Ague, and continues in perfect Health. Letters of Notification in Form of the Death of the Landgrave of Heſſe-Philipſdahl his Swediſh Majeſty's Uncle, being arrived on the 2d Inſtant, this Court is gone into Mourning for three Months on that Occaſion.

Copenhagen, July 27. On the 24th Inſtant the King of Denmark, with the Queen and the young Princeſs, ſet out from Fredericksberg for Sleſwig. His Majeſty dined that Day at Ringſtedt, eight Daniſh Miles from this Town, where he reviewed a Regiment of Horſe. All the Troops that are quartered in Fuhnen and Jutland are ordered to be in Readineſs, his Majeſty intending to take a Review of them. The King of Denmark's Miniſters are to follow his Majeſty in 10 Days Time, together with the Chancery. General Schultz has the Care of this Town and Garriſon during the King's Abſence.

Paris, Aug. 3. The King, having been bled and having taken a Vomit by way of Precaution againſt the Small Pox, which the Phyſicians apprehended, is perfectly well to Day. The Turkiſh Ambaſſadour, who was to have ſet out Yeſterday on his way home, put off his Journey till to Day.

Paris, Aug. 6. The King being intirely recovered from his late Indiſpoſition, was complimented Yeſterday by the Princes and Princeſſes of the Blood, the foreign Miniſters, the Deputies of the Parliament, and a great Number of Perſons of Diſtinction. During his Majeſty's Illneſs the Cardinal de Noailles had cauſed Prayers of 40 Hours to be made in all the Churches of his Dioceſs, and the Parliament had ordered the Shrine of St. Genevieve to be opened on that Occaſion. Since his Majeſty's Recovery Te Deum has been ſung in moſt of the Churches of this City; and there has been for theſe two Nights paſt Bonefires, Fireworks, Illuminations, and all Sorts of publick Rejoicings throughout the City.

Whitehall, July 14. 1721.

Whereas on Saturday the 24th Day of June laſt, between the Hours of Nine and Ten in the Evening, three Foot-Pads aſſaulted and robbed Philip Rott, Surveyor of the Window-Lights, near St. Pancras-Church, in the Road leading from Highgate to London, as he was returning from his Duty, and treated him in ſuch a barbarous manner that he died of his Wounds the Monday following: His Majeſty is pleaſed, for the better Diſcovery of the ſaid Offenders, to promiſe his moſt gracious
